OLYMPUS LOCK ANNOUNCES NEW DRAWER LATCH LOCK FOR SMALL FORMAT INTERCHANGEABLE CORE

LYNNWOOD, WA — Olympus Lock, Inc. announces the L72V, the first square body drawer latch lock for Best-style small format interchangeable core. The L72V has the same case dimensions and screw hole placement as our other large square body SFIC locks such as the 950IC and 721DR/DW series products. This item adds to our growing family of small format interchangeable core cabinet locks which includes the 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 728, 729 and 950 series. The new L72V accepts small format interchangeable core cylinders such as Best, Arrow, Falcon or equivalent and is available in US26D (satin chrome) finish. The lock is furnished with lock mounting screws and matching strike plate and will be available for shipment beginning October 2013.
