FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SEATTLE, WA — Olympus® Lock, Inc. announces the newest member of our large pin family of products: the L7080 reversible spring latch lock. The L7080 will be offered in both door and drawer versions and with a 1-1/8" or 1-3/8" barrel length. Door locks may be ordered as left-hand or right-hand function. Drawer locks may be ordered as vertical or inverted function. Additionally, the L7080 is field reversible among all four handings.

An optional emergency release knob is available that allows the lock to be operated from the inside of the door. This option is ideal for dressing rooms, evidence lockers or any other application that requires the lock to be operated from the inside.

The L7080 ships standard with a matching lip strike and our 1-1/8" barrel length locks include two spacers for a flush fit on 7/8" material thickness. The emergency release knob is available separately. The L7080 will be offered in a Schlage "C" keyway or "less cylinder" version to accept other manufacturers Schlage compatible deadbolt cylinders. The L7080 is expected to be available for purchase in early 2005.
